PROFILE

Nazly represents institutional clients and individuals in complex, multijurisdictional disputes, focusing her practice on global anti-corruption, corporate investigations, international arbitration, and cross-border litigation. As a dual-qualified attorney, Nazly combines her knowledge of common law and civil law systems to offer transnational advice to clients.

She is fluent in Spanish and proficient in Portuguese. Nazly was awarded the Dean's Certificate for outstanding service to the Georgetown Law community, served as the President of the Georgetown International Arbitration Society (GIAS), and was the LL.M. Chair for the Latin American Law Students Association (LALSA).

She also served as the Young ITA Co-Chair for South America at the Institute for Transnational Arbitration and is currently the Co-Chair for North America.
