PROFILE

Katt's practice combines high-stakes litigation in the English courts with complex, cross-border arbitration. She represents investors, multinational corporates, and high-net-worth individuals in strategic, high-value, and reputation-critical disputes.

Katt has experience advising clients in the energy and financial services sectors on contractual and regulatory disputes, interlocutory relief, and collective action proceedings.

Before joining the firm, Katt worked at a major U.S. law firm in London, focusing on corporate M&A. Her transactional experience spans cross-border M&A and complex restructurings, as well as general corporate advisory matters. Katt's combination of transactional and contentious experience lends itself to developing commercially focused solutions for clients.
